FUND HISTORY

Volumetric Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") -- formerly named The Volumetric Investment Society -- was founded in August of 1978 by Mr. Gabriel J. Gibs, as a private investment partnership for his friends, relatives and associates. At that time, he had worked as a chemist for Lonza, Inc., a large multinational chemical firm, where some of his co-workers encouraged him to start the Fund. The Fund started its operations on September 1, 1978, with 19 charter shareholders and with net assets of $17,712, and an initial offering price of $10.00 per share.

The Fund's name was changed from the Volumetric Investment Society to Volumetric Fund, Inc. on June 15, 1986. It was incorporated under the laws of the State of New York on July 25, 1986, after, at the Annual Meeting the shareholders approved the reorganization. The Fund has been open to the general public since September 3, 1987.

DESCRIPTION OF THE FUND AND ITS INVESTMENTS AND RISKS

The Fund is an open-end diversified mutual fund. The Fund's investment objective is capital growth. Its secondary objective is downside protection.

The principal investment strategies and the principal risks are described in the Prospectus.

The Fund's share price will fluctuate. You could lose money on your investment in the Fund and the Fund could also return less than other investments. The Fund is subject to principal risks, which are outlined in the Prospectus. This section contains information regarding some of the additional investments, and related risks, the Fund may make and some of the investment techniques it may use.

Foreign Securities. The Fund may invest in foreign securities, either directly or indirectly through depositary receipts, including American Depositary Receipts ("ADRs"), Global Depositary Receipts ("GDRs") and other similar instruments. Generally, ADRs, in registered form, are denominated in U.S. dollars and are designed for use in the U.S. securities markets, while GDRs, in bearer form, may be denominated in other currencies and are designed for use in multiple foreign securities markets. ADRs are receipts typically issued by a U.S. bank or trust company evidencing ownership of the underlying securities. GDRs are foreign receipts evidencing a similar arrangement. For purposes of the Fund's investment policies, ADRs and GDRs are deemed to have the same classification as the underlying securities they represent, except that ADRs and GDRs shall be treated as indirect foreign investments. For example, an ADR or GDR representing ownership of common stock will be treated as common stock. Depositary receipts do not eliminate all of the risks associated with direct investment in the securities of foreign issuers.

ADRs are denominated in U.S. dollars and represent an interest in the right to receive securities of foreign issuers deposited in a U.S. bank or correspondent bank. ADRs do not eliminate all risk inherent in investing in the securities of foreign issuers. However, by investing in ADRs rather than directly in equity securities of foreign issuers, the Fund will avoid currency risks during the settlement period for either purchases or sales. GDRs are not necessarily denominated in the same currency as the underlying securities which they represent.

Depositary receipt facilities may be established as either "unsponsored" or "sponsored." While depositary receipts issued under these two types of facilities are in some respects similar, there are distinctions between them relating to the rights and obligations of depositary receipt holders and the practices of market participants.

A depositary may establish an unsponsored facility without participation by (or even necessarily the permission of) the issuer of the deposited securities, although typically the depositary requests a letter of non-objection from such issuer prior to the establishment of the facility. Holders of unsponsored depositary receipts generally bear all the costs of such facility. The depositary usually charges fees upon the deposit and withdrawal of the deposited securities, the conversion of dividends into U.S. dollars, the disposition of non-cash distributions, and the performance of other services. The depositary of an unsponsored facility frequently is under no obligation to pass through voting rights to depositary receipt holders in respect of the deposited securities. In addition, an unsponsored facility is generally not obligated to distribute communications received from the issuer of the deposited securities or to disclose material information about such issuer in the U.S. and there may not be a correlation between such information and the market value of the depositary receipts.

Sponsored depositary receipt facilities are created in generally the same manner as unsponsored facilities, except that the issuer of the deposited securities enters into a deposit agreement with the depositary. The deposit agreement sets out the rights and responsibilities of the issuer, the depositary, and the depositary receipt holders. With sponsored facilities, the issuer of the deposited securities generally will bear some of the costs relating to the facility (such as dividend payment fees of the depositary), although depositary receipt holders continue to bear certain other costs (such as deposit and withdrawal fees). Under the terms of most sponsored arrangements, depositaries agree to distribute notices of shareholder meetings and voting instructions, and to provide shareholder communications and other information to the depositary receipt holders at the request of the issuer of the deposited securities.

Other foreign securities may be denominated in U.S. dollars and trade on domestic stock exchanges. Foreign investments can involve significant risks in addition to the risks inherent in U.S. investments. Securities of foreign companies may experience more rapid and extreme changes in value than securities of U.S. companies because a limited number of companies represent a small number of industries. Many foreign countries lack uniform accounting and disclosure standards comparable to those applicable to U.S. companies, and it may be more difficult to obtain reliable information regarding an issuer's financial condition and operations. When the Fund invests in ADRs or other U.S. dollar-denominated foreign securities, it generally will not be subject to currency risk.

Investing abroad also involves different political and economic risks. Foreign investments may be affected by actions of foreign governments adverse to the interests of U.S. investors, including the possibility of expropriation or nationalization of assets, confiscatory taxation, restrictions on U.S. investment or on the ability to repatriate assets or convert currency into U.S. dollars, or other government intervention. There may be a greater possibility of default by foreign governments or foreign government-sponsored enterprises. Investments in foreign countries also involve a risk of local political, economic or social instability, military action or unrest, or adverse diplomatic developments. There is no assurance that the Adviser will be able to anticipate or counter these potential events and their impacts on the Fund's share price.

Small Cap Companies. The Fund may invest in small-cap stocks with annual revenues over $1 billion. There is a risk that stocks of smaller companies may be subject to more abrupt or erratic market movements than stocks of larger, more established companies. Small companies may have limited product lines or financial resources, or may be dependent upon a small or inexperienced management group. In addition, small cap stocks typically are traded in lower volume, and their issuers typically are subject to greater degrees of changes in their earnings and prospects.

U.S. Government Obligations. The Fund may invest in U.S. Government obligations, which include securities which are issued or guaranteed by the United States Treasury, by various agencies of the United States Government, and by various instrumentalities which have been established or sponsored by the United States Government. U.S. Treasury obligations are backed by the "full faith and credit" of the United States Government. U.S. Treasury obligations include Treasury bills, Treasury notes, and Treasury bonds. U.S. Treasury obligations also include the separate principal and interest components of U.S. Treasury obligations which are traded under the Separate Trading of Registered Interest and Principal of Securities ("STRIPS") program. Agencies or instrumentalities established by the United States Government include the Federal Home Loan Banks, the Federal Land Bank, the Government National Mortgage Association, the Federal National Mortgage Association, the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation, the Student Loan Marketing Association, the Small Business Administration, the Bank for Cooperatives, the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, the Federal Financing Bank, the Federal Farm Credit Banks, the Federal Agricultural Mortgage Corporation, the Resolution Funding Corporation, the Financing Corporation of America and the Tennessee Valley Authority. Some of these securities are supported by the full faith and credit of the United States Government while others are supported only by the credit of the agency or instrumentality, which may include the right of the issuer to borrow from the United States Treasury. In the case of securities not backed by the full faith and credit of the United States, the investor must look principally to the agency issuing or guaranteeing the obligation for ultimate repayment, and may not be able to assert a claim against the United States in the event the agency or instrumentality does not meet its commitments. Shares of the Funds are not guaranteed or backed by the United States Government.

STRIPS are U.S. Treasury bills, notes and bonds that have been issued without interest coupons or stripped of their unmatured interest coupons, interest coupons that have been stripped from such U.S. Treasury securities, and receipts or certificates representing interests in such stripped U.S. Treasury securities and coupons. A STRIP security pays no interest in cash to its holder during its life although interest is accrued for federal income tax purposes. Its value to an investor consists of the difference between its face value at the time of maturity and the price for which it was acquired, which is generally an amount significantly less than its face value. Investing in STRIPS may help to preserve capital during periods of declining interest rates.

STRIPS do not entitle the holder to any periodic payments of interest prior to maturity. Accordingly, such securities usually trade at a deep discount from their face or par value and will be subject to greater fluctuations of market value in response to changing interest rates than debt obligations of comparable maturities which make periodic distributions of interest. On the other hand, because there are no periodic interest payments to be reinvested prior to maturity, STRIPS eliminate the reinvestment risk and lock in a rate of return to maturity. Current federal tax law requires that a holder of a STRIP security accrue a portion of the discount at which the security was purchased as income each year even though the Fund received no interest payment in cash on the security during the year.

(1) The Fund will not sell any security short or engage in the purchase of call, put or other options.

DISCLOSURE OF PORTFOLIO HOLDINGS

The Fund intends to publicly disclose all of its portfolio holdings quarterly within 60 days after each quarter-end. The Fund's management intends to publicly disclose all portfolio holdings with a delay of at least 15 days after each quarter-end to facilitate timely release of information to rating agencies such as Lipper, Inc., Morningstar, Inc., Bloomberg L.P. and others. The Fund does not make selective non-public disclosures of portfolio holdings to third parties. Furthermore, the Fund may publicly disclose its top ten holdings along with their percentages, on a monthly basis, after a minimum of a 3-day delay, on the Fund's website www.volumetric.com, "Fact Sheet" report and other reports.

The policy and procedures generally prohibit the disclosure of the Fund's portfolio schedule until it has been made available to the public through regulatory filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") or posted to the Fund's website. The Fund's complete portfolio holdings are made available to the public on a quarterly basis generally no later than 60 days after the end of each calendar quarter end. A detailed portfolio is reported in the annual, semi-annual, and quarterly N-PORT-P filings to the SEC. These reports can be found on the Fund's website at www.volumetric.com or by visiting www.sec.gov.

The Fund also may disclose its complete portfolio holdings, on a daily basis and without a time lag to the Fund's custodian, independent registered public accountant, transfer agent, brokers, and any other necessary service providers who require such information to perform their contractual duties and responsibilities to the Fund. The Fund may also disclose its complete holdings to Directors and to the Chief Compliance Officer ("CCO") of the Fund at the Board of Directors ("Board") meetings for discussing the Fund's performance and portfolio. In addition, complete portfolio holdings information may be provided to the Fund's independent registered public accounting firm (the "Auditor"), for purposes of preparing the annual audit of the Fund and related shareholder reports. The service providers and the Auditor are subject to duties of confidentiality, including a duty not to trade on non-public information, whether by contract, applicable law, or relevant accounting standards. The Fund's Chief Compliance Officer periodically may request that the service providers confirm their compliance with these restrictions.

Neither the Fund nor the Adviser receives any compensation or other consideration for the disclosure of the Fund's portfolio holdings.

Only executive officers of the Fund, subject to the Board's oversight, may authorize disclosure of the Fund's portfolio securities. The Fund has adopted policies and procedures that are designed to ensure that disclosure of the information regarding portfolio holdings is in the best interest of the Fund's shareholders, including addressing any conflicts of interest between the interest of the Fund's shareholders and that of the Adviser, and any affiliated persons thereof. The Fund's Chief Compliance Officer, at least annually, reports to the Board regarding these policies and procedures and their application.

The Audit Committee includes four Independent Directors: (i) Stephen Samitt (Chair and the Audit Committee's Financial Expert), (ii) Alexandre Olbrecht, (Audit Committee' Vice-Financial Expert), (iii) Cornelius O'Sullivan and (iv) Stacey Yanosy. The Audit Committee is primarily responsible for recommending the selection of the independent registered public accounting firm to the Board; receiving, reviewing, and keeping the Board informed about the shareholder reports, including the annual shareholder report; and such other matters that may warrant attention.

The risk oversight of the Fund is addressed at Board meetings. The full Board of Directors and Independent Directors met in executive session four times in the last fiscal year. In addition, the Audit Committee met twice, and the Governance & Nominating Committee met once during the last fiscal year.

Shareholders may nominate a director for the Board. Any recommendation may be made to either Governance & Nominating Committee or any other member of the Board.

Director Qualifications

The Governance & Nominating Committee reviews the experience, qualifications, attributes and skills of potential candidates for nomination or election by the Board. In evaluating a candidate for nomination or election as a Director, the Committee takes into account the contribution that the candidate would be expected to make to the diverse mix of experience, qualifications, attributes and skills that the Committee believes contribute to good governance for the Fund. The Board has concluded, based on each Director's experience, qualifications, attributes or skills on an individual basis and in combination with the other Directors, that each Director is qualified to serve on the Board. The Board believes that the Directors' ability to review critically, evaluate, question and discuss information provided to them, to interact effectively with the Advisor, other service providers, legal counsel and the independent registered public accounting firm, and to exercise effective business judgment in the performance of their duties as Directors support this conclusion. In determining that a particular Director is and will continue to be qualified to serve as a Director, the Board considers a variety of criteria, none of which, in isolation, is controlling.

CODE OF ETHICS

The Fund, the Adviser and the Distributor have each adopted codes of ethics (each a "Code") under Rule 17j-1 under the 1940 Act which governs the personal trading activities of all "Access Persons". Access Persons generally include all officers and interested directors of the Fund and those of the Adviser. The Code of Ethics is based upon the principle that the Access Persons have the fiduciary duty to place the interest of Fund's shareholders above their own. Under each code, the Directors are permitted to invest in securities that may also be purchased by the Fund.

The Code of Ethics permits Access Persons to buy and sell securities for their own accounts, including securities that may be purchased or held by the Fund, subject to certain exceptions. The Code of Ethics requires all Access Persons to report personal security holdings and personal securities transactions regularly. The Code of Ethics requires Access Persons, who are investment personnel, to pre-clear most of their personal securities transactions.

PROXY VOTING POLICY

The Board of Directors of Volumetric Fund, Inc. has adopted a proxy voting policy and procedure that delegates the authority to vote proxies to the Chair of the Board and President of the Fund, subject to the supervision of the Board of Directors. The proxy voting policy generally provides that proxy voting will be decided on by a case-by-case basis, with the intention being to vote all proxies in the best interest of the Fund's shareholders.

The following guidelines summarize the policy in routine issues of proxies. Accordingly, the voting generally will support the management’s slate of directors of the company being voted upon. Regarding the selection of independent auditors of the company being voted upon, the voting as a general rule, will support the management’s choice of auditors. All other non-routine issues will be voted on a case-by-case basis in the best interest of Fund shareholders.

In situations where there is a conflict of interest, or apparent conflict with the Fund, the vote will be based upon the recommendation of the majority of the Fund’s Independent Directors.

The Fund files Form N-PX with its complete proxy voting record for the twelve months ended June 30, no later than August 31 of each year. This filing is available without charge, upon request, by calling the Fund toll-free (800) 541-3863 and on the SEC’s website at www.sec.gov. The Fund will provide the Form N-PX information within three business days of the request.
